

PICTURES FROM POST-CPS WORLD AFFAIRS SEMINAR SENT TO THE FOLLOWING OUTLETS:

THE SECRETARY, Kansas City, Missouri

MacColl-Riley Associates, Inc., New York, N. Y.

THE FREE PRESS, Detroit, Michigan

THE NEWS TIMES, Detroit, Michigan

THE INDEPENDENT PRESS, Pittsfield, Illinois

NEWSLETTER, Berkshire Life Insurance Company, Pittsfield, Mass.

BERKSHIRE EAGLE, Pittsfield, Mass.

INTELLIGENCER, Wheeling, West Virginia

NEWS LETTER, Ormet Corporation, Hanibal, Ohio

VINDICATOR & TELEGRAM, Youngstown, Ohio

MAHONING DISPATCH, Canfield, Ohio

SAN ANTONIO NEWS, San Antonio, Texas

AMARILLO GLOBE TIMES, Amarillo, Texas

Eli Lilly U Company, San Antonio, Texas

LONG BEACH PRESS TELEGRAM, Long Beach, California

GILL & QUILL, Star Kist Foods, Inc., Long Beach, California

OMAHA WORLD HERALD, Omaha, Nebraska

BANCO NEWS, Minneapolis, Minnesota

WORCESTER GAZETTE, Worcester, Mass.

MILWAUKEE JOURNAL, Milwaukee, Wisconsin

DES MOINES REGISTER-TRIBUNE, Des Moines Iowa

LILLY REVIEW, Eli Lilly & Company, Indianapolis, Ind.

CLEARWATER SUN, Clearwater, Florida.

September
1961

Book

THE GEORGE WASHINGTON UNIVERSITY
WASHINGTON 6, D. C.

NEWS RELEASE

FROM
OFFICE OF PUBLIC RELATIONS

3 locals

2025 H STREET, N.W.
STERLING 3-0250

MERLE DOWD, BR. 355
JANE LINGO, BR. 420
JOHN TOOMEY, BR. 354

ALSO ST. 3-4995

FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE
September 6, 1961

Jane Lingo -

Robert W. Eller has been named assistant dean of the George Washington University's College of General Studies according to an announcement made this week by university President Thomas H. Carroll.

Eller, a graduate of old Cenral High School in Washington, holds a Bachelor of Science degree from Wilson Teachers College, now District Teachers College, and a Master of Arts from George Washington. He served for two years in the U.S. Army and was formerly a high school science teacher at Dolly Madison and Wakefield High Schools in Arlington, Va., and the assistant principal of the George Mason High School in Falls Church, VA. He succeeds Walter H. Hayes, Jr., who resigned to accept a position as dean of men at the University of Tampa, in Florida.

He joined the staff of the George Washington University in 1956 and has served as assistant director of the off-campus division of the College of General Studies and more recently as director of the off-campus division. He is also an assistant professor of education at the university.

He is married and the father of two children, Jonathan 9, and Robin Sue 5. He lives with his family in Arlington, Virginia.

THE GEORGE WASHINGTON UNIVERSITY
WASHINGTON 6, D. C.

NEWS RELEASE

FROM

OFFICE OF PUBLIC RELATIONS

3 locals

2025 H STREET, N.W.
STERLING 3-0250

MERLE DOWD, BR. 355
JANE LINGO, BR. 420
JOHN TOOMEY, BR. 354

ALSO ST. 3-4995

FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE
September 6, 1961

Robert W. Eller has been named assistant dean of the George Washington University's College of General Studies according to an announcement made this week by university President Thomas H. Carroll.

Eller, a graduate of old Cenral High School in Washington, holds a Bachelor of Science degree from Wilson Tachers College, now District Teachers College, and a Master of Arts from George Washington. He served for two years in the U.S. Army and was formerly a high school science teacher at Dolly Madison and Wakefield High Schools in Arlington, Va., and the assistant principal of the George Mason High School in Falls Church, VA. He succeeds Walter H. Hayes, Jr., who resigned to accept a position as dean of men at the University of Tampa, in Florida.

He joined the staff of the George Washington Uⁿiversity in 1956 and has served as assistant director of the off-campus division of the College of General Studies and more recently as director of the off-campus division. He is also an assistant professor of education at the university.

He is married and the father of two children, Jonathan 9, and Robin Sue 5. He lives with his family in Arlington, Virginia.

THE GEORGE WASHINGTON UNIVERSITY
WASHINGTON 6, D. C.

NEWS RELEASE
FROM
OFFICE OF PUBLIC RELATIONS

2025 H STREET, N.W.
STERLING 3-0250

MERLE DOWD, BR. 355
JANE LINGO, BR. 420
JOHN TOOMEY, BR. 354
ALSO ST. 3-4995

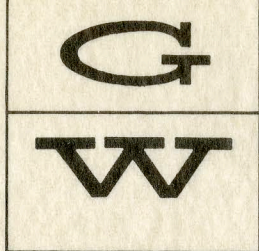

3 locals - city desks and music men
2 Virginia dailies
Bob Willson for the Hatchet

FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE
September 6, 1961

The Department of Art of the George Washington University announces a program in music beginning in the fall semester, 1961.

The program will include courses in appreciation of music, and history of music. In addition, there will be a practice course in orchestra, conducted once a week, which will be open to musicians and interested students who are qualified by audition before the director.

Mr. George Steiner, a graduate of the Peabody Conservatory of Music and the Johns Hopkins University, will direct the newly established program in music. Mr. Steiner has been on the music faculty of American University, and was formerly Assistant Concert Master of the National Symphony Orchestra. He comes to George Washington with an extensive background as an administrator, music educator, concert violinist, chamber music performer, and conductor.

news release

The Public Relations Office / 2025 H Street, N. W. / FEderal 8-0250

THE GEORGE WASHINGTON UNIVERSITY · WASHINGTON 6. D. C.

5 dailies
Suburban Record
Bethesda Advertiser

September 7, 1961
J. Lingo
FE 8-0250, ext. 420

Fashions from Casual Corner will highlight "Tips 'N Tea with Topnotchers," part of the annual welcome week program for incoming freshman women at the George Washington University on Monday evening, September 18, 1961, at 8:30 P.M. in the university's Lisner Auditorium. The evening's program will serve to introduce campus leaders and campus activities to the incoming women students and the fashion show, with student models, will help them to know which college styles are right for the George Washington campus.

THE GEORGE WASHINGTON UNIVERSITY
WASHINGTON 6, D. C.

NEWS RELEASE
FROM
OFFICE OF PUBLIC RELATIONS

2025 H STREET, N.W.
STERLING 3-0250

MERLE DOWD, BR. 355
JANE LINGO, BR. 420
JOHN TOOMEY, BR. 354
ALSO ST. 3-4995

women's departments of the 5 dailies

September 7, 1961
J. Lingo
FE. 8-0250, ext 420

Wives of the U.S. Air Force Officers recently enrolled in the Air Force Advanced Management Program at the George Washington University will be welcomed at a tea to be given on Tuesday, September 12, 1961, from 4 to 6 P.M. in the university's Alumni Lounge in Bacon Hall on the university campus. Guests of honor will be Mrs. Thomas H. Carroll, wife of University President Carroll and Mrs. Oswald S. Colclough, wife of the university's Provost and Dean of Faculties. Mrs. Archibald M. Woodruff, wife of the Dean of the School of Government, Business, and International Affairs, and Mrs. Waldo Sommers, wife of Dr. Sommers, Coordinator of the Air Force Advanced Management Program at the university will act as hostesses for the party. The Management Program includes a full year's study for the officers who have already begun their classes in advance of the university's regular Fall Semester.

news release

The Public Relations Office / 2025 H Street, N. W. / FEderal 8-0250

THE GEORGE WASHINGTON UNIVERSITY · WASHINGTON 6. D. C.

5 dailies - women's depts.

September 8, 1961
J. Lingo
FE 8-0250, ext. 420

Some thirty - five Certified Professional Secretaries will come to Washington from all parts of the United States for a World Affairs Seminar sponsored by the Institute for Certifying Secretaries (a Department of the National Secretaries Association) to be held at the George Washington University Sunday, September 10, through Friday, September 15.

The program of morning, afternoon, and evening sessions will include an address by Senator Frank Church of Idaho on "The United States and World Affairs", a speech by Miss Virginia Geiger, Far East Planning Officer, Bureau of Educational and Cultural Affairs, the Department of State, a tour of the White House, the Voice of America, the Japanese Embassy, and lectures by members of the George Washington faculty on various aspects of world affairs. COMPLETE PROGRAM AND LIST OF THOSE ATTENDING ATTACHED.

Purpose of the seminar is to provide a means for further professional development for the Certified Professional Secretaries attending the seminar with the goal of better management understanding.

Director of the seminar will be H. Rowland Ludden, Associate Professor of Political Science at George Washington. Institute Coordinator for the seminar will be Professor George A. Wagoner, Dean of the Institute for Certifying Secretaries, and head of the Department of Business Administration of the University of Tennessee at Knoxville.

Sessions will be held in Room 200, Hall of Government, The George Washington University, 710 21st Street, NW. Dinner sessions will be at the Roger Smith Hotel.

Some members of the seminar visited Vice President Lyndon B. Johnson at the capitol and were photographed with him on the capitol steps.

THE GEORGE WASHINGTON UNIVERSITY
WASHINGTON 6, D. C.

NEWS RELEASE

FROM
OFFICE OF PUBLIC RELATIONS

2025 EYE STREET, N.W.
STERLING 3-0250

FOR RELEASE FRIDAY, SEPTEMBER 9, 1960.

MARGARET DAVIS, BR. 355
JAMES FITZGERALD, BR. 440
JANE LINGO, BR. 420
JOHN TOOMEY, BR. 354
ALSO ST. 3-4995

An independent study of the purpose and role of the Joint Committee on Atomic Energy will be undertaken by the George Washington University National Law Center, it was announced today by Dean Louis H. Mayo of the university's Graduate School of Public Law.

The inquiry, which will begin in September and take one year to complete, is made possible by a grant from the Edgar Stern Family Fund, a Louisiana foundation.

Focal point of the study will be an analysis and evaluation of the Joint Committee as an instrument of democratic government.

"Because of the JCAE's unique status and the extraordinary authority vested in it," says Dean Mayo, "the study will involve examination of the Joint Committee's role in terms of such basic constitutional principles as the separation of powers among the three branches of government, the Joint Committee's contribution to keeping the public informed on critical questions of national policy, and the means to be employed by a democratic government in conducting national defense programs on the secrecy-shrouded frontiers of science and technology.

"Our program of inquiry, which will examine all relevant sources of information and include personal interviews, will attempt to answer the following questions concerning the JCAE: Is an institution like the Joint Committee on Atomic Energy necessary for exercising legislative authority over programs like atomic energy? Should a comparable Joint Committee device be used in other fields such as our national space, civil defense, and central intelligence programs? How do the operations of the Joint Committee on Atomic Energy affect the operations and r . - responsibilities of the executive and judicial branches of government and of other Congressional agencies?"

page 2

The Law Center study group will not be primarily concerned with the policy issues involved in the atomic energy program, but will consider these only insofar as they may throw light on the nature and functions of the Joint Committee as an institution of government.

news release

The Public Relations Office / 2025 H Street, N. W. / FEderal 8-0250

THE GEORGE WASHINGTON UNIVERSITY • WASHINGTON 6, D. C.

5 dailies, 3 local music men

FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE

September 11, 1961

J. Lingo

FE. 8-0250, ext. 420 or 356

The Department of Art of the George Washington University announces a program in music beginning in the fall semester, 1961.

The program will include courses in appreciation of music, and history of music. In addition, there will be a practice course in orchestra, conducted once a week, which will be open to musicians and interested students who are qualified by audition before the director.

Mr. George Steiner, a graduate of the Peabody Conservatory of Music and the Johns Hopkins University, will direct the newly established program in music. Mr. Steiner has been on the music faculty of American University, and was formerly Assistant Concert Master of the National Symphony Orchestra. He comes to George Washington with an extensive background as an administrator, music educator, concert violinist, chamber music performer, and conductor.

THE GEORGE WASHINGTON UNIVERSITY
WASHINGTON 6, D. C.

NEWS RELEASE
FROM
OFFICE OF PUBLIC RELATIONS

2025 H STREET, N.W.
STERLING 3-0250

MERLE DOWD, BR. 355
JANE LINGO, BR. 420
JOHN TOOMEY, BR. 354
ALSO ST. 3-4995

SPECIAL TO THE SECRETARY

September 21, 1961

Thirty-three Certified Professional Secretaries came to Washington for the first Post-CPS World Affairs Seminare sponsored by the Institute for Certifying Secretaries (a Department of the National Secretaries Association) held at the George Washington University in Washington D.C. September 10 through 15, 1961.

The program of morning, afternoon and evening sessions included an address by Senator Frank Church of Idaho on "The United States and World Affairs - Some Proposals on Berlin", a speech by Miss Virginia Geiger, Far East Planning Officer, Bureau of Educational and Cultural Affairs, U.S. Department of State, a tour of the White House, the Voice of America, the Japanese Embassy, and lectures by members of the George Washington faculty on various aspects of world affairs.

Purpose of the seminar was to provide ~~NE~~ a means for further professional development for the Certified Professional Secretaries attending the seminar with the goal of better management understanding.

Director of the seminar was H. Rowland Ludden, Associate Professor of Political Science at George Washington. Institute Coordinator for the seminar was Professor George A. Wagoner, immediate past ~~NEEDN~~ ^{Dean} of the Institute for Certifying Secretaries. Professor Wagoner is head of the department of ~~THE~~ Business Administration of the University of Tennessee at Knoxville.

The newly elected Dean of the Institute for Certifying Secretaries, Dean Carlos Hayden ~~NE~~ head of the Department of Business Education at the University of Houston attended the seminar and presented the certificates of attendance.

news release

The Public Relations Office / 2025 H Street, N. W. / Federal 8-0250

THE GEORGE WASHINGTON UNIVERSITY • WASHINGTON 6, D. C.

FOR RELEASE THURSDAY, SEPTEMBER 21, 1961
Toomey, Br. 354

Jerry Cohen, a George Washington University law school senior, has been awarded the first Patent Office Society Student Award presented by the university's Patent, Trademark and Copyright Foundation.

The Patent Office Society provided financial assistance for the establishment of the award, which is presented annually to the author of the best paper submitted by a student in the Foundation's seminar and lecture series. The recipient is presented with a citation and an honorarium of $100. His paper is published in the Foundation's Patent, Trademark and Copyright Journal of Research and Education.

Mr. Cohen's prize-winning paper dealt with possible future problems of litigation as a result of present Government policies of acquiring an ever-increasing portfolio of patents.

Pointing out that the Federal Government will in all probability soon find it necessary to sue for infringement of its patent rights, the author suggests that legislation is needed now to clarify the procedural and constitutional uncertainties inherent in such a suit.

Mr. Cohen, who attends the university's law school in the evening, is a patent examiner at the U. S. Patent Office. He received the degree of Bachelor of Science in Mechanical Engineering in 1957 from Rensselaer Polytechnic Institute, and in 1957-58 was an infantry officer in the Army at Fort Benning, Ga. He is a member of Phi Delta Phi legal fraternity; he served as assistant patent editor of the George Washington Law Review; and he was a semi-finalist in the law school's annual case club competition last year. He is married to the former Caryl Raines of Washington; they live at 1003 24th St., n.w. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Cohen of 22 Walter Hammond Drive, Waldwick, New Jersey.

News release

The Public Relations Office / 2025 H Street, N. W. / Federal 8-0250

THE GEORGE WASHINGTON UNIVERSITY • WASHINGTON 6. D. C.

FOR RELEASE THURSDAY, SEPTEMBER 21, 1961
Toomey, Br. 354

Jerry Cohen, a George Washington University law school senior, has been awarded the first Patent Office Society Student Award presented by the university's Patent, Trademark and Copyright Foundation.

The Patent Office Society provided financial assistance for the establishment of the award, which is presented annually to the author of the best paper submitted by a student in the Foundation's seminar and lecture series. The recipient is presented with a citation and an honorarium of $100. His paper is published in the Foundation's Patent, Trademark and Copyright Journal of Research and Education.

Mr. Cohen's prize-winning paper dealt with possible future problems of litigation as a result of present Government policies of acquiring an ever-increasing portfolio of patents.

Pointing out that the Federal Government will in all probability soon find it necessary to sue for infringement of its patent rights, the author suggests that legislation is needed now to clarify the procedural and constitutional uncertainties inherent in such a suit.

Mr. Cohen, who attends the university's law school in the evening, is a patent examiner at the U. S. Patent Office. He received the degree of Bachelor of Science in Mechanical Engineering in 1957 from Rensselaer Polytechnic Institute, and in 1957-58 was an infantry officer in the Army at Fort Benning, Ga. He is a member of Phi Delta Phi legal fraternity; he served as assistant patent editor of the George Washington Law Review; and he was a semi-finalist in the law school's annual case club competition last year. He is married to the former Caryl Raines of Washington; they live at 1003 24th St., n.w. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Cohen of 22

Walter Hammond Drive, Waldwick, New Jersey.

Sent to: 3 City Desks; Jersey Parade, Waldwick, N. J.; Call, Paterson, N. J.; News, Paterson, N.J. TRADEMARK REPORTER; PATENT & TRADEMARK REVIEW; AMERICAN PATENT ASSOCIATION BULLETIN; U.S. PATENTS QUARTERLY; JOURNAL OF THE PATENT OFFICE SOCIETY; plus 8 copies to Patent Office Information Office

news release

The Public Relations Office / 2025 H Street, N. W. / Federal 8-0250

THE GEORGE WASHINGTON UNIVERSITY • WASHINGTON 6, D. C.

September 22, 1961

To the Editor:

- * * AMERICAN INDUSTRY MAY BE DOING ITSELF GRAVE HARM BY ITS
RELUCTANCE TO DEFEND ITSELF IN COURT WHEN ITS PRACTICES
ARE CHALLENGED...
- * * AVOIDANCE OF COURT TESTS AND FREQUENT RESORT TO NEGOTIATION
OR CONSENT PROCEDURES MAY PREJUDICE OR COMPROMISE THE FUTURE
EXISTENCE OF RIGHTS NOW CLEARLY POSSESSED OR WIDELY BELIEVED TO EXIST...

The above are highlights from an article just published in the Patent, Trademark, and Copyright Journal of Research and Education. Authors L. James Harris and Irving H. Siegel direct attention to the concept of "positive competition," which represents the evolving practical core of our economic behavior, as opposed to idealized, synthetic, stereotyped concepts that dominate economic and antitrust literature.

Three examples of patent licensing arrangements often attacked as inconsistent with the public interest are examined in the article to illustrate the contribution of court decisions to the development of "positive competition" and the emergence of guidelines to businessmen and government administrators as a result of this interaction.

The authors point out that all rights, including business rights, should be tested "in traditional and established forums, such as the courts, lest these prerogatives be forfeited to administrative expediency." They further suggest that "it may be the 'conservative' courts that protect the 'liberal' fountainhead when the system of checks and balances partially breaks down, when the doctrine of the separation of powers loses sharp definition with popular acquiescence or support."

MORE

This article, "Evolving Court Opinion on Patent Licensing: An Interaction of Positive Competition and the Law," appears in the Summer 1961 issue of the Journal (Volume 5, Number 2), published by the Patent, Trademark, and Copyright Foundation of The George Washington University, Washington, D. C. Members of the press may obtain copies by contacting Mr. John S. Toomey, Office of Public Relations, The George Washington University, Washington 6, D. C. (FEderal 8-0250, ext. 354)

news release

The Public Relations Office / 2025 H Street, N. W. / Federal 8-0250

THE GEORGE WASHINGTON UNIVERSITY • WASHINGTON 6, D. C.

suburban papers

FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE
September 22, 1961

Jane Lingo
FE. 8-0250, ext. 420

NEW OPENING

The George Washington University Library
2023 G Street, N.W.

PAINTINGS by Constant LeBreton of France

September 25th through October 22nd, 1961

Hours: 9 AM to 10 PM Monday through Friday
 9 AM to 5 PM Saturday
 2 to 6 PM on Sunday

Mr. LeBreton, a well known French Artist was born in 1895. His first one-man show in America was last July (1961) in the Vera Lazuk Gallery, Cold Spring Harbor, Long Island, New York. This exhibition at The George Washington University Library is his second one-man show in this country.

news release

The Public Relations Office / 2025 H Street, N. W. / Federal 8-0250

THE GEORGE WASHINGTON UNIVERSITY • WASHINGTON 6. D. C.

September 22, 1961

To the Editor:

* * AMERICAN INDUSTRY MAY BE DOING ITSELF GRAVE HARM BY ITS
RELUCTANCE TO DEFEND ITSELF IN COURT WHEN ITS PRACTICES
ARE CHALLENGED...

* * AVOIDANCE OF COURT TESTS AND FREQUENT RESORT TO NEGOTIATION
OR CONSENT PROCEDURES MAY PREJUDICE OR COMPROMISE THE FUTURE
EXISTENCE OF RIGHTS NOW CLEARLY POSSESSED OR WIDELY BELIEVED TO EXIST...

The above are highlights from an article just published in the Patent, Trademark, and Copyright Journal of Research and Education. Authors L. James ^{Professional Lecturer in Law} Harris and Irving H. Siegel direct attention to the concept of "positive competition," which represents the evolving practical core of our economic behavior, as opposed to idealized, synthetic, stereotyped concepts that dominate economic and antitrust literature.

Three examples of patent licensing arrangements often attacked as inconsistent with the public interest are examined in the article to illustrate the contribution of court decisions to the development of "positive competition" and the emergence of guidelines to businessmen and government administrators as a result of this interaction.

The authors point out that all rights, including business rights, should be tested "in traditional and established forums, such as the courts, lest these prerogatives be forfeited to administrative expediency." They further suggest that "it may be the 'conservative' courts that protect the 'liberal' fountainhead when the system of checks and balances partially breaks down, when the doctrine of the separation of powers loses sharp definition with popular acquiescence or support."

MORE

This article, "Evolving Court Opinion on Patent Licensing: An Interaction of Positive Competition and the Law," appears in the Summer 1961 issue of the Journal (Volume 5, Number 2), published by the Patent, Trademark, and Copyright Foundation of The George Washington University, Washington, D. C. Members of the press may obtain copies by contacting Mr. John S. Toomey, Office of Public Relations, The George Washington University, Washington 6, D. C. (FEderal 8-0250, ext. 354)

Sent to: Business Editors of 3 Washington dailies, New York Times, New York Herald Tribune, New York World Telegram & Sun, Christian Science Monitor, Time, Newsweek, U. S. News & World Report, Richmond Times-Dispatch, Baltimore Sun, Baltimore News-Post, Norfolk Virginian Pilot, plus Trademark Reporter, Patent and Trademark Review, American Patent Association Bulletin, U. S. Patents Quarterly, Journal of the Patent Office Society, Product Design and Development News, Law Journal, Wall Street Journal, New York Journal of Commerce, Fairchild Publications, Chilton Publications, McGraw Hill Publishing Co., Kiplinger's, Industrial and Engineering Chemistry, Science Service, Electronic Design, Chemical and Engineering News, Iron Age, Business International, Nation's Business, Antitrust Bulletin, Fortune, Forbes, Business Week, Barron's National Business & Financial Weekly, Journal of Finance, Financial World, United States Law Week, Aeronautical Engineering Review, Industrial Design, Mill and Factory, Magazine of Wall Street, Journal of Marketing, American Business, Industrial Science, Productivity Measurement Review, International Trade Review, American Industry, Engineering News Record, Commerce Magazine, Industrial Marketing, Science, Dean's Review & Modern Industry, Design News, Machine Design, Business Horizons, The American Investor, Law & Contemporary Problems, American Journal of Economics, Economic Development & Cultural Change, Current Economic Comment, American Economic Review, Southern Economic Journal, Quarterly Journal of Economics, Herbert M. Bratter.

THE GEORGE WASHINGTON UNIVERSITY
WASHINGTON 6, D. C.

NEWS RELEASE
FROM
OFFICE OF PUBLIC RELATIONS

WASHINGTON WEEKLIES

2025 H STREET, N.W.
STERLING 3-0250

MARGARET DAVIS, BR. 355
JANE LINGO, BR. 420
JOHN TOOMEY, BR. 354
ALSO ST. 3-4995

RELEASE AT WILL

September 22, 1961

Dedication ceremonies for the new $22.5 million District of Columbia Stadium will be held Saturday, October 7.

The ceremonies will precede a Southern Conference football game between host George Washington University and Virginia Military Institute, conference champion for the past two years.

President Kennedy and all high-ranking government officials in Washington have been invited as honor guests for the ceremonies.

Festivities will begin at 1 p.m., when the VMI cadets parade. Following in succession will be the Navy Band, the Old Guard Band, the Air Force Band, the Army Chorus, the Air Force Drum and Bugle Corps, and the Marine Band.

Formal dedication ceremonies will be gin at 1:40 p.m., with the kick-off scheduled for 2 p.m.

Reserved seat tickets at $3.00 ~~4444~~ may be purchased at the George Washington ticket office, Lisner Auditorium, 21st and H Sts., n.w., or at any local office of the American Automobile Association. Reservations may be made in writing or by telephoning Federal 3-0250, extension 417.

A gigantic scoreboard 369 feet long and 40 feet high is a dominant feature of the stadium, which covers 10 acres and seats 50,000. Absence of supporting pillars affords a full view of the playing field from all seats. Adjacent parking facilities will accommodate 12,500 cars, 300 buses, and 200 taxis, with the stadium less than a five-minute walk away.

news release

The Public Relations Office / 2025 H Street, N. W. / FEderal 8-0250

THE GEORGE WASHINGTON UNIVERSITY • WASHINGTON 6, D. C.

FOR RELEASE SUNDAY, SEPTEMBER 24, 1961
Toomey - ext. 354

Capt. Lowell W. Williams, USN (Ret.), former Superintendent of the U. S. Naval Postgraduate School in Monterey, California, has been appointed Assistant Dean of the School of Government, Business, and International Affairs at George Washington University, Washington, D. C., the university announced today.

In the newly-created post of assistant dean, Capt. Williams will assist Dean A. M. Woodruff in administering the rapidly expanding program of the school.

Capt. Williams, a native of Oskaloosa, Iowa, grew up in Huntington, Indiana. He attended Huntington College and Purdue University before entering the U. S. Naval Academy, where he was graduated and commissioned in 1931. He also holds the degree of Master of Science in Public Administration from Ohio State University.

A Naval Aviator, Capt. Williams was awarded his Wings in 1933. During World War II, he served as Operations Officer at the Naval Air Station at Quonset Point, Rhode Island, and later as commanding officer of Headquarters Squadron 16, operating in the South Atlantic. He became Naval Air Member of the U. S. Naval Mission to Brazil in 1944. During the Korean War, he was commanding officer of the USS Corson, which supported patrol plane operations in the Korean theater.

Capt. Williams became commanding officer of the USS Valley Forge in 1955. He later served as Deputy Assistant Chief of Naval Personnel for Plans, and in 1959 became Chief of Staff to the Superintendent of the U. S. Naval Postgraduate School in Monterey, California. He was named Superintendent in 1960.

His other duty assignments have included service on the USS Memphis, USS Tennessee, and USS Tarawa, and in Hawaii and the Alaskan and Aleutian areas, as well as several posts with the Bureau of Naval Personnel.

MORE

Capt. Williams was awarded the Legion of Merit and the Oak Leaf Cluster in lieu of a second Legion of Merit. He also has received fifteen other awards, citations, and medals, including six from the Brazilian government.

He is a member of Sigma Phi Epsilon social fraternity; Phi Delta Kappa, national education fraternity; Pi Sigma Alpha, national political science fraternity; the Naval Order of the United States; the Military Naval Club of New York; and the Army Navy Club of Washington. He and Mrs. Williams live at 8508 Rosewood Drive, Bethesda, Md.

Sent to: 3 City Desks; Peninsula Herald, Monterey, Calif.; Ohio State University Monthly; SHIPMATE; Army, Navy, Air Force Journal; Army, Navy Air Force Register; Navy Times; Bethesda-Chevy Chase Tribune; Suburban Record; Montgomery County Sentinel, Huntington, Ind., Press Herald.

news release

The Public Relations Office / 2025 H Street, N. W. / FEderal 8-0250

THE GEORGE WASHINGTON UNIVERSITY • WASHINGTON 6, D. C.

suburban papers

September 25, 1961

RELEASE AT WILL

Toomey, ext. 354

Dedication ceremonies for the new $22.5 million District of Columbia Stadium will be held Saturday, October 7.

The ceremonies will precede a Southern Conference football game between host George Washington University and Virginia Military Institute, conference champion for the past two years.

President Kennedy and all high-ranking government officials in Washington have been invited as honor guests for the ceremonies.

Festivities will begin at 1 p.m. when the VMI cadets parade. Following in succession will be the Navy Band, the Old Guard Band, the Air Force Band, the Army Chorus, the Air Force Drum and Bugle Corps, and the Marine Band.

Formal dedication ceremonies will begin at 1:40 p.m., with the kick-off scheduled for 2 p.m.

Reserved seat tickets at $3.00 may be purchased at the George Washington ticket office, Lisner Auditorium, 21st and H Sts., n.w., or at any local office of the American Automobile Association. Reservations may be made in writing or by telephoning FEderal 8-0250, extension 417.

A gigantic scoreboard 369 feet long and 40 feet high is a dominant feature of the stadium, which covers 10 acres and seats 50,000. Absence of supporting pillars affords a full view of the playing field from all seats. Adjacent parking facilities will accommodate 12,500 cars, 300 buses, and 200 taxis, with the stadium a five-minute walk away.

news release

The Public Relations Office / 2025 H Street, N. W. / FEderal 8-0250

THE GEORGE WASHINGTON UNIVERSITY · WASHINGTON 6, D. C.

5 women's departments

FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE
September 26, 1961

J. Lingo
FE 8-0250, ext. 420

Sixteen past presidents of The Columbian Women of The George Washington University will be among those present to greet Dr. Thomas H. Carroll, 13th President of the George Washington University, and Mrs. Carroll, on Wednesday, October 4, at 6:30 PM at the group's first meeting of the year, a buffet supper to be held in Lisner Auditorium Lounge, 21st and H Streets, NW.

President Carroll will talk to the group about current university plans.

Past presidents who will be in attendance held office dating back to 1914. Two will come from a distance for the meeting: Mrs. Watson W. Eldridge, Jr., from Deerfield Beach, Florida; and Miss Elizabeth Wilson from Cambridge, Massachusetts.

Other past presidents who plan to attend are: Miss Mary Connelly, Miss Elizabeth Cullen, Mrs. Henry Grattan Doyle, Miss Alice Hutchins Drake, Miss Harriet Garrels, Miss Elsie Green, Mrs. Charles W. Ihle, Dr. Sally Steele MacDonald, Mrs. Cloyd H. Marvin, Mrs. George P. Merrill, Miss Margaret Pepper, Miss Irene Pistorio, Mrs. William C. Van Vleck, and Miss Emilie Margaret White.

Greetings to the President and Mrs. Carroll have been received from three other past presidents: Mrs. Herbert M. Fillebrown in Daytona Beach, Florida; from Mrs. William J. Mallory in Lovettsville, Virginia; and from Mrs. Helen B. Edgineton, who will remain in Milford, Penn., until later in the fall.

news release

The Public Relations Office / 2025 H Street, N. W. / FEderal 8-0250

THE GEORGE WASHINGTON UNIVERSITY • WASHINGTON 6. D. C.

GWU, COLUMBIAN WOMEN

222222

Mrs. Oswald S. Colclough and Mrs. Joshua Evans, Jr., both honorary members, will be among the head table guests. Mrs. Colclough is the wife of Vice Admiral Oswald S. Colclough, USN (Ret.), Provost and Dean of Faculties of the University. Mrs. Evans has served on the University's Board of Trustees and is now an Honorary Trustee.

Miss Margaret Davis, current president of The Columbian Women, will preside. The President and Mrs. Carroll will be presented by the Program Chairman, Dr. Virginia Kirkbride.

Arrangements for the meeting are being made by the Second Vice President and Hospitality Chairman, Mrs. James C. Van Story., Jr., and her committee.

THE GEORGE WASHINGTON UNIVERSITY
WASHINGTON 6, D. C.

NEWS RELEASE

FROM
OFFICE OF PUBLIC RELATIONS

2025 H STREET, N.W.
STERLING 3-0250

MERLE DOWD, BR. 355
JANE LINGO, BR. 420
JOHN TOOMEY, BR. 354
ALSO ST. 3-4995

Religious writers - Post, Star, News
CATHOLIC STANDARD

FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE
September 26, 1961

J. Lingo
FE. 8-0250, ext. 420

Father Robert E. McNally, S.J., has been appointed Professorial Lecturer in Religion at the George Washington University. He will teach one course, Religion 131-B, History of Christianity to the Reformation in the Fall Semester. BIOGRAPHICAL INFORMATION ATTACHED.

Father McNally is Professor of Church History at Woodstock College.

ROBERT E. McNALLY, S.J.

Fr. McNally was born in New York City on December 24, 1917. He attended St. Francis Xavier High School in that city and from 1935-37 was a student at Fordham University. On August 15, 1937, he entered the Society of Jesus at the Jesuit Novitiate in Wernersville, Pa. In 1942 he received his A.B. from Georgetown University and the following year his Ph.L. (philosophy) from Woodstock College in Woodstock, Maryland. After teaching three years in New York City, Fr. McNally was ordained to the priesthood at Woodstock College in June, 1949. On completion of his theological studies he received the M.A. degree in medieval history at Catholic University in Washington, and from 1951-57 worked in the famous medieval seminar at the University of Munich from which he received the Ph.D. in medieval studies. In 1957 he was appointed to the Chair of Church History and History of Dogma at Woodstock College, the oldest Jesuit faculty of theology in the United States. At various times, Fr. McNally has been guest professor of theology in the honors program at Georgetown University. Active in intellectual circles, he is Secretary of the Patristic Academy of America and member of the Executive Council of the American Catholic Historical Association.

Fr. McNally's field of concentration is the history of Catholic thought, especially in transition from the patristic to the medieval period. He is the author of studies in Church History, Old Ireland and the history of the interpretation of the Bible. At present he is working on a comprehensive study of the historical development of biblical studies in the medieval world, a scholarly project made possible by a recent grant from The American Council of Learned Societies. His last book, The Bible in the Early Middle Ages, is well known to historians of Catholic thought.

THE GEORGE WASHINGTON UNIVERSITY
WASHINGTON 6, D. C.

NEWS RELEASE

FROM
OFFICE OF PUBLIC RELATIONS

2025 H STREET, N.W.
STERLING 3-0250

MERLE DOWD, BR. 355
JANE LINGO, BR. 420
JOHN TOOMEY, BR. 354
ALSO ST. 3-4995

Hatchet

SPECIAL TO THE HATCHER

September 29, 1961

HAYES CONCERT COUPONS for the purchase of tickets to concerts at the half-price student rate are available at the Art Department, the Student Activities office and in the Student Union. The half-price rate applies to all seats, from the most expensive to the least costly.

The Branko Krsmanovich Chorus of Yugoslavia which will appear on Sunday, October 8, at 3 PM. in Constitution Hall is the first concert for which students may buy tickets at half price.